Steve is a highly regarded Business Communications Specialist with over 32 years' experience and a solid background in Broadcast Journalism with BBC TV and Discovery. He is a Certified Executive Leadership Coach and Systemic Team Coach and creator of the Art of Comms app.

Communication Consultant: As Director of Steve Knight Business Communications, Steve works on an international platform with blue-chip companies; designing and delivering communication and leadership Masterclasses; helping organisations shape and deliver winning contract pitches and to produce and present internal projects to gain Board or Executive Committee approval; Coaching executives to deliver powerful communications at conferences and live events and how to handle the media and create PR opportunities.

Professor: Steve is Adjunct Professor of Business Communication at INSEAD in France & Singapore where he runs The Art of Communication elective for the MBA and GEMBA programmes, plus seminars on communication projects for Executive Development Programmes.

Executive Coach & Systemic Team Coach: Areas covered; Maximising Leadership Potential, Increasing Executive Presence, Team Dynamics Efficiency & Performance, Appreciative Positive Inquiry, Conflict Resolution, Negotiating, Planning with Purpose, Career Progression, Career Transition, Work Life Balance, Family & Relationship Dynamics, Health & Wellbeing.

eLearning and sharing community: The Art of Comms app provides the perfect platform for you to be part of a dynamic, professional learning and sharing community, created by you, your colleagues and your friends. It's designed to help you prepare and rehearse for presentations, meetings, crucial conversations, speeches and job interviews, by filming your rehearsals and sharing your video file to receive feedback, so you get to know where you're doing great and where you need to step up and be greater. You can also receive professional feedback from one of our Coaches.

Presenter and Keynote Speaker: Steve has a particular flair and proven track record in business presentations for blue chip companies - delivering Keynote Speeches, hosting Events and Conferences, facilitating Q&A sessions and presenting Business Television programmes.

Television: Steve's TV credits include a range of highly successful programmes for Discovery Channel, including the ITN produced science & technology programme Discovery Today and Discovery People, where guests included Professor Stephen Hawking and Sir Chris Bonington. He co-presented Animal Hospital on BBC1 for four years and presented reports for the Saturday night National Lottery Draw.
